

Compensatory growth: An acceleration of the growth rate following a period of growth retardation caused by husbandry practices such as high stocking density which may lead to increased competition over food or space

Figure: Compensatory growth:
Copyright: A. A. El Gamal